About us

Jesuit Missions is the international development office of the Jesuits in Britain. We exist to support Jesuit works with poor and marginalised communities around the world. We also respond to humanitarian emergencies by launching appeals and working with partners on the ground, such as the Jesuit Refugee Service.

In Britain, Jesuit Missions is involved in Jesuit schools, parishes and university chaplaincies preparing resources and we facilitate Companions in Action, a programme which creates partnerships with Jesuit works in the Global South. We run a Volunteer Programme, providing volunteer opportunities in Africa, Central Asia and India. We also engage in fundraising efforts to support our work and that of our partners.

For more information please speak with your parish priest or contact Lynn McWilliams, Outreach Coordinator, by calling 0208 946 0466 or emailing lynn@jesuitmissions.org.uk
